The Fatherhood Project

The Fatherhood Project is a community based, not for profit association of volunteers and professionals, that aims for every father to be positively and actively engaged in their children's lives. We work with fathers and families to create a brighter future for our children.

We run Family Festivals, service provider events and programmes for new and expectant Dads. We look at building resilience and creating support for fathers to help create a more child, father and family friendly community. We also create products and resources to make for a more father inclusive workplace.
